Jonah – a fishy tale

Tuesday 31 March 2015 at 2:00pm
and
Wednesday 1 April 2015 at 6:30pm

This modern musical adaptation of Jonah and The Whale has a balmy, summertime feel. It contains an exhilarating mix of sea-themed songs, a man-eating whale and a bunch of scurvy pirates. You will be introduced to a whole host of new characters, including a beautiful senorita, an irritating crab and Peg It and Leg It, the nasty Ninevities.

The Box Office is now open!

suggested donation: £3.00 per ticket

All donations received will go to The Pepper Foundation. The charity offers palliative care and support to children and families with life threatening or life limiting illness in Hertfordshire.

Payment for this production, by credit/debit card, can now be made on-line using WisePay. Please visit www.thomascoram.herts.sch.uk for the WisePay link and enter via the Tickets and Events Manager.

Due to seating restrictions, there is a limit on tickets to a maximum of 3 per pupil for each performance.

In order to be fair to our young performers it would be helpful if parents/carers who need to bring younger children and babies could come to the afternoon performance.

Please complete the attached slip and hand into your child's class teacher by Friday 27 March.

The Friends of Thomas Coram intend to film this production. A copy of the final cut will be available to purchase. Should you wish your child NOT to be filmed please indicate on the slip below and return it to school.
