Dear parent/carer

Last week was a 'testing time' for the pupils of Year 6, having completed six assessments in four days. I am writing to you to inform you of how proud I am of each and every pupil. They worked hard with revision in the lead up to the week, were mature and sensible during the assessments and supported each other throughout – no one could have worked any harder to achieve their best. Results will be announced at the end of the academic year; however, whatever the results may be, I hope you will be as proud as I am with their performance and progress.

Additionally, I would like to thank you for your support and assistance with your child's learning this year and throughout their time at Thomas Coram that has helped them flourish; whether this be with homework, extra-curricular activities or continued emotional support.

While we are not at the end of the academic year yet, and we still have to assess and evidence the pupils' writing, we hope the children enjoy their last few weeks at Thomas Coram before their move to secondary school, including our residential trip to Devon, the end of year production and sports day.

Yours sincerely

Mr Phelan
