Dear parents and carers

Last year, in the lead up to World Book day, we introduced the Extreme Reading Challenge which was so successful we are repeating it this year.

The idea is that, at Thomas Coram we love reading so much that we don't just do it at school, at the library, in bed or on the sofa... we read literally anywhere! The challenge is for the children to read a book, comic or electronic reader in as unusual a place as possible, between now and World Book Day (Thursday 7 March).

If you are way at half term, the unusual place might be overseas or next to a famous landmark. If you are staying closer to home the location might be somewhere unexpected or unusual.

Wherever your child chooses to read, please take one photo and send it into school with them in an envelope marked clearly with their name and class. There will be a prize for the best photo for each year group and the best of all the photos will be displayed in the library for all to see!

Happy Reading!
